

M'KINLEY GOES IN AT NOON TODAY

The United States of America Under Republican Administration Once More.

Elaborate Program Was Carried Out Without a Mishap Of Any Kind.

Washington, March 4.—The official ceremonies to-day began with the departure of President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley and Vice President-elect Hobart and the senate committee of arrangements and their escort of 5,000 troops from the White House for the capitol, where the oath of office was administered to the new chief executive by Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller.

Major McKinley drove over from the Ebbitt house to the executive mansion at 10:30 o'clock and met the president in his private office. The presidential party, with its escort of United States troops, Troop A of Cleveland and the District National Guard, left the White House at 11 o'clock and reached the capitol shortly before noon. Vice President Stevenson did not accompany his successor, as he was engaged in presiding over the session of the senate. Mr. Hobart instead was accompanied by the senate committee of arrangements, consisting of Messrs. Sherman, Elkins and Mitchell.

At the capitol the officials assembled in the senate chamber, the members of the supreme court and of the senate and house being present. Vice President Stevenson administered the oath of office to Mr. Hobart, and at the stroke of 12 declared the senate of the Fifty-fourth congress adjourned. An extra session of the senate having been called, the new vice president then administered the oath of office to the newly elected senators.

The senate then took a recess and the procession moved to the stand at the east portico in front of the rotunda, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley leading. On the stand the oath of office was administered to President-elect McKinley by Chief Justice Fuller. President McKinley then made his inaugural address.

On concluding, he returned to the president's room in the senate wing of the capitol, and from there he was escorted to the White House by the inaugural parade, which began to move from the capitol shortly after 2 o'clock. The parade moved from the capitol by the way of Pennsylvania avenue west to Washington circle, thence west through "K" street to Vermont avenue, where the organizations were reviewed by Grand Marshal Porter and dismissed. From a stand in front of the White House, the president reviewed the parade.

On the return to the White House, which President McKinley reached ahead of the main body of the parade, a luncheon was hastily served for him before he went to the reviewing stand. At this time he and Mrs. McKinley took leave of ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland, who at once left, the former going down the river on a trip, and the latter to Princeton, N. J.

At night there will be an illumination and display of fireworks in the Washington monument grounds, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

The inaugural ball will be held in the pension building, the doors being opened at 8 o'clock, and the ceremonies beginning at 9 o'clock.

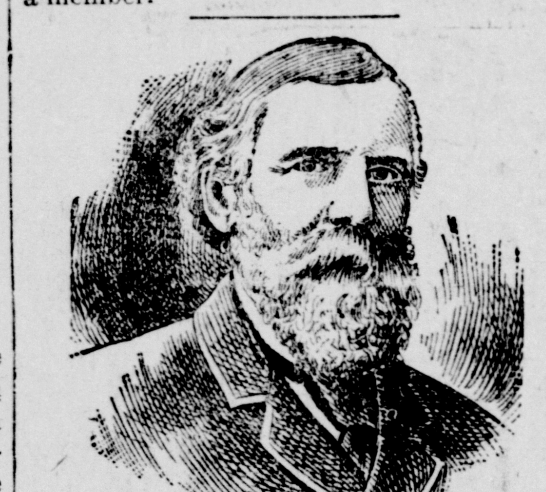

There were about 20,000 men in the great parade. Of these about 12,000 were military and 8,000 civic organizations. Almost all the latter were Republican league clubs. This organization numbers 8,000 clubs, scattered over the country, with an aggregate strength of 2,500,000, and was the great fighting force in the past campaign. The three civic divisions were composed almost wholly of its members, with only about eight detached organizations of any sort, one of which was the famous old Harmony Fire company of Philadelphia, and another the Indian school battalion of Carlisle.

Washington, March 4.—President McKinley's cabinet is composed of the following statesmen:

Secretary of State,
JOHN SHERMAN,
of Ohio.

John Sherman was born May 10, 1823, at Lancaster, Ohio. When he was but six years old his father died, leaving a large family in reduced circumstances, and he was subsequently adopted by a relative living at Mount Vernon, Ohio. At the age of twelve a sister took charge of him and put him in a school at Lancaster, where he acquired an education. He studied law with his brother, C. T. Sherman, at Mansfield, where he afterward practiced for ten years, and where he was married in 1848 to a daughter of James Stewart. In 1855 he was elected to the Thirty-fourth congress in the interest of the Free Soil party, and was re-elected to the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth congresses. He became a power on the floor and in committees, and was recognized as the foremost man in the house, particularly in matters affecting finance. He was again elected to congress in 1860, but in the following year was chosen to the United States senate, where he at once became a leader. After the close of the civil war he and Thaddeus Stevens prepared the bill for the reconstruction of the southern states, which was passed by congress in the winter of 1865-67. In March, 1877, Senator Sherman was appointed by President Hayes secretary of the treasury, a position which he retained until the close of Mr. Hayes' administration in 1881, when he re-entered the senate, of which he is still a member.

Secretary of the Treasury,
LYMAN J. GAGE,
of Illinois.

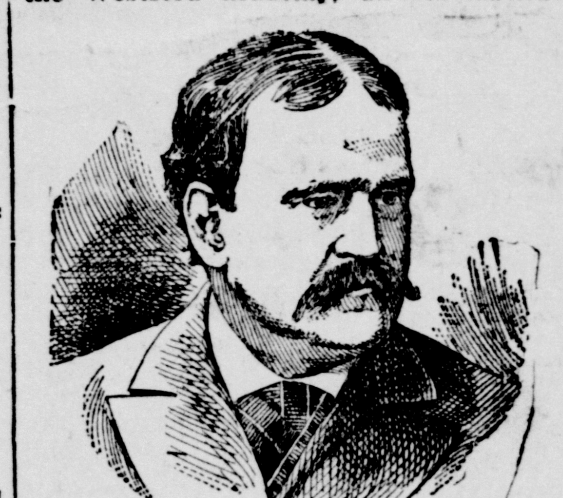

It was while employed as night watchman in a Chicago lumber yard that the opportunity of his life came to Lyman J. Gage. He was offered the position of bookkeeper for the Merchants' Savings, Loan and Trust company, and accepting it, he began a career which eventually led him to the highest position in connection with any such financial institution, the presidency of the First National bank of Chicago. Born in De Ruyter, Madison county, N. Y., June 28, 1836, Mr. Gage went to Chicago in the fall of 1855, very poor but full of energy and pluck. Accepting the first employment that offered, he became a member of all work in a planing mill and lumber yard, being reduced to the station of night watchman in 1858, when the Merchants' Loan and Trust company gave him a chance. He rose rapidly to the office of cashier, and in 1868 he went to the First National bank to occupy a similar position. He became vice-president and general manager of that institution in 1882, and was elected president in January, 1891. Mr. Gage was one of the promoters of the World's Columbian Exposition, and was one of four men to practically guarantee that Chicago would redeem its pledge to raise $10,000,000 for the fair.

Secretary of War,
RUSSELL A. ALGER,
of Michigan.

Russell Alexander Alger was born in Lafayette, Ohio, February 27, 1836; was admitted to the bar in 1859. He entered the volunteer service as captain in the 2d Michigan cavalry in 1861, and came out as brevet major-general, having greatly distinguished himself at Gettysburg and in the Shenandoah valley. After the war he was engaged in the lumber business in Detroit, where he amassed a large fortune. In 1884 he was elected on the Republican ticket as governor of Michigan, and served for two years. In 1890 he was commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. In 1888 he was a presidential candidate before the Republican National convention; in 1892 he was a strong Elaine man and had that great statesman been nominated Alger would have been the vice-presidential candidate. His military record is the subject of much controversy, having both good and bad features, which have been discussed recently with considerable acrimony.

John D. Long, of Massachusetts, was born in Buckfield, Me., Oct. 27, 1838. He had the foundation of his education at the schools of his native town and at Hebron academy, and afterward entered Harvard college, where he graduated in the class of 1857. After leaving college he accepted the position of principal of the Westford academy, an old institution incorporated in 1733, where he remained for two years. He then returned to Cambridge and entered the Harvard law school, completing his legal studies in the offices of Peleg W. Chandler and Sidney Bartlett in Boston. He was admitted to the bar in 1861. In 1870 he was elected to the state house of representatives. He was re-elected to the legislature in 1876, 1877, and 1878, and during those years was speaker of the house, discharging his duties with ability. At the Republican convention in 1878 he received the nomination for lieutenant-governor and was elected. He was nominated for the governorship in the following year and was elected, his opponent being Gen. B. F. Butler. At the convention of 1880 he was unanimously renominated for a second term. The contest was an exciting one, and resulted in Mr. Long's reelection by a large majority. He continued to hold the office until January, 1883.

Attorney General,
JOSEPH M'KENNA,
of California.

Judge Joseph McKenna, of the United States court of California, attorney general in the McKinley cabinet, is well known on the coast. During his long career in congress Judge McKenna served his constituents well, and when in 1882, while he was still representing the old Third district of California, President Harrison made him a federal judge, the appointment was well received by the people. Judge McKenna went to California from Philadelphia in 1855 as a mere child, and was educated in the common schools. His collegiate course was taken in St. Augustine college, Benicia, Cal., and only one year after reaching his majority he was admitted to the bar. In that year he was elected district attorney of Solano county. In 1875 Mr. McKenna was a candidate for congress, but was defeated by J. K. Luttrell. After a second unsuccessful candidacy he was elected to congress and was three times re-elected. He has long been an intimate friend of President McKinley, and will be very close to the President at the official table.

Postmaster General,
JAMES A. GARY,
of Maryland.

Judge James Albert Gary is a distinguished citizen of Maryland, 63 years of age. He attended school at Rockhill institute, Ellicott City, Md., and afterward at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., and in 1861 became a partner in the firm of James A. Gary & Son. In 1870 Mr. Gary succeeded his father as the head of the firm. Mr. Gary owns other valuable business properties in Baltimore and Howard county and has been repeatedly called upon to share in the management of financial and other business corporations in Baltimore. He was president for several years of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association and is now vice-president of the Consolidated Gas company and vice-president of the Citizens' National bank. He also holds directorships in the Savings Bank of Baltimore, the Warehouse company, the American Insurance company, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Insurance company and the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee company. He was an ardent Unionist during the war and has been a Republican ever since. In 1870 the Republicans nominated him for congress in the Sixth district, but he was defeated. In 1879 the Republicans nominated him for governor and he failed of election.

Secretary of Agriculture,
JAMES WILSON,
of Iowa.

James Wilson of Iowa, secretary of agriculture in President McKinley's cabinet, was formerly a member of congress. He has in late years been actively interested in the agricultural college of Iowa, and has been one of the regents of the state university. He is a practical farmer himself and is the owner and operator of one of the prettiest bits of farm land in the west. His farm is near Ames. He was chairman of the committee on agriculture when he was in congress. Indeed, Mr. Wilson's life has been given up to the study and practice of farming, and he is one of the best husbandmen in America. Under the presidential succession act, the portfolio of agriculture will be only one in the

WHISTLES SCREAM FOR A NEW RULER

BELOIT PEOPLE MADE MERRY TODAY.

The City Was in Gala Attire and Joy Was Unconfined—Other Wisconsin Cities Celebrate in Honor of Inauguration—Some Other State Spectals.

Beloit, Wis., March 4.—[Special]—Beloit marked inauguration day in an enthusiastic manner. The city was in holiday attire. At noon the steam whistles were turned loose, and rent the air with their blasts. Bells rang, flags floated, and a feeling of unrestrained joy prevailed everywhere over the inauguration of a republican president.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 4.—[Special]—Reports come from many cities in the state, of celebrations in honor of the inauguration of the new president.

AN OSHKOSH FACTORY BURNED.
A. Streich & Bro. Suffer a Loss of About $40,000—Other Fires.

Oshkosh, Wis., March 4.—The wagon factory of A. Streich & Bro. was wrecked by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. The loss is about $40,000 and is pretty well insured.

Negaunee, Mich., March 4.—Fire destroyed the large warehouse of Winter & Saess of this city, entailing a loss of fully $8,000—$6,500 on the stock and $1,500 on the building. Among the goods destroyed were 100 tons of hay and 20,000 bushels of grain. Insurance $2,000 was carried on the stock and $1,000 on the building.

Bloomer, Wis., March 4.—The Bloomer house barn burned. The fire caught from a smoker's pipe. The loss is $200, partly covered by insurance.

BROWNSTOWN BUILDINGS BURNED.
Dwellings and Business Houses Are Destroyed By Fire.

Monroe, Wis., March 4.—The village of Brownstown, eight miles west of this city, was damaged by a $5,000 fire at midnight. The following buildings were destroyed: Charles Trickle's drug store, stock and building totally destroyed, insured for $3,000; Dr. C. B. Rouse's office, furniture, books, etc., no insurance; dwelling house occupied by the Long family, a total loss. The two latter buildings and the vacant building belonged to C. Matter estate. The building and stock of Peter Nelson & Son, hardware, were damaged by fire and water $500. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin.

EXAMINATION WAS POSTPONED

Campbell and Collins Get a Continuance at Darlington.

Darlington, Wis., March 4.—Daniel Collins and John Campbell of Gratiot, were brought before Commissioner G. Marshall, yesterday, to answer for the killing of Edward Hale of Wayne on the night of Dec. 19, 1896. The examination was postponed to March 19.

Fond du Lac Railway Franchise.

Fond du Lac, March 4.—The general sentiment of the business men of the city is in favor of granting a liberal franchise for an electric street railway, as is shown by the signatures which petitions favoring the franchise have received. These petitions were presented at a council meeting last evening.

Salaries Cut Down.

Kaukauna, Wis., March 4.—At the meeting of the city council no effort was made to pass the Wells & Reichert franchise over the veto filed by Mayor McCarty, last week. Salaries of most of the city officials were cut down. The city electrician's salary was fixed at $500 per year.

State Will Fix Rates Now.

Bismarck, N. D., March 4.—The famous Iowa railroad law, with a few amendments, but none which impairs its purpose, was passed in the senate by a unanimous vote. It was at once taken to the house, which accepted the amendments and passed it by a unanimous vote and the bill goes at once to the governor for signature. This law places the making and general control of the rates in the hands of the railroad commissioners.

Strike Is on the Increase.

New York, March 4.—The number of cloak and shirt makers on strike in this city was increased to 4,000 Wednesday. Five hundred shirt makers who went on strike won their fight, and returned to work. One thousand workers in the shops of the contractors for A. Friedlander & Co., cloak manufacturers, threaten to go on strike.

Work for Streator Men.

Streator, Ill., March 4.—The flint glass works in this city, which have been idle for the last five years, will be started at once, and will give employment to 150 men. The Barr clay works, manufacturers of paving and building brick, will also put a full force at work next Monday.

All Work Suspended.

Cleveland, O., March 4.—Work in the Globe shipbuilding yards was suspended Wednesday by reason of the strike of the unskilled workmen. The strike of the helpers has made it necessary for the company to lay off between 300 and 400 skilled workmen.

Employees' Wages Cut.

Marquette, Mich., March 4.—The Sutherland-Innes company of Munising, Alger county, has cut the wages of its 200 employees 10 per cent, the order taking effect March 1. The company operates several sawmills and a tannery.

Signed by the President.

Washington, March 4.—The international monetary conference bill is now a law, President Cleveland having signed it Wednesday afternoon.

HOLD JOINT SESSION AND JOIN IN SONG

THE LEGISLATORS MARK INAUGURATION DAY.

Heated Debate Over the Question of Of the University President Serving As a Regent—Adjournment Taken In the Midst of it—Other Madison News.

Madison, Wis., March 4.—[Special] The senate and assembly met in joint session in the senate chamber at 11 o'clock, and heard a short speech from Acting-Governor Baensch. At the close of the speech the assembled company sang "America," led by the senate quartette.

In the assembly, the bill to remove the president of the university from the board of regents, caused a heated debate.

Tucker of Winnebago, chairman of the committee which reported the bill for passage, supported it in a strong speech. He said the presence of the president of the university on the board had been a scandal for years, and the board could not criticize the president fully when he was present as a member. W. A. Jones of Iowa county, a member of the board, strongly objected to the bill, declaring that the board wished the president to remain a member.

Mr. Trus of Sauk declared that behind the committee and behind the member who introduced the bill, were those who had a grudge against the university.

Mr. Ballard of Winnebago, vigorously attacked the bill, saying that as the board of regents, with one exception, opposed the bill, their judgement should rule.

The assembly adjourned in the midst of the debate.

In the senate nothing was done but to pass a lot of bills.

Turkey's Available Forces.

London, March 4.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Constantinople says that the special commission appointed by the porte to inquire into the condition of the Turkish fleet has reported to the Sultan that twenty-two vessels are ready for service. The military commission has reported to the Sultan that 72,000 troops have been already mobilized or dispatched to the frontier. Orders will be given to raise the number to 120,000.

Spain Is Menaced at Home.

London, March 4.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Madrid says that the distress which exists in nearly all the provinces among the peasantry continues to increase. In Aragon the peasants have become so violent in consequence of privations that the military is obliged to escort the tax gatherers. There is likely to be a wholesale emigration to Brazil from the famine districts.

NOTE WAS CHANGED
THE EXPERTS SAID

SURPRISE IN THE HOWE MURDER CASE.

The Attorneys Made Their Arguments Yesterday Afternoon, M. G. Jeffris Assisting Mr. Barnes For the Defense - Jury Likely to Get The Case Some Time Today.

Elkhorn, Wis., March 4.—The last witnesses in the Howe fratricide case were put on the stand yesterday. District Attorney Sumner then opened the case for the state, made a summary of the evidence which had been introduced, and made a strong argument from the facts brought forth as to the guilt of the defense. He said the testimony had consisted entirely of circumstantial evidence, but it was so positive and binding that it left little doubt.

Mr. Barnes for the defense made an eloquent plea for his client in the afternoon, speaking so touchingly that many people in the audience were moved to tears. Even the prisoner was so wrought up that tears rolled down his cheeks. This is the first time during the whole trial that he has lost his composure.

Some of the Testimony.

The case was concluded with the testimony of Leroy Howe that he did not go to the home of his father the night of the murder, but that he stayed in the vacant house of Mr. Weed, near his father's place, and that no one stayed there that night but himself. In regard to the Woodmen's insurance on the life of his brother Charles, he testified that he knew it was to be paid to his father and mother, and that it could not be changed without the consent of the company.

Frank Willard testified for the prosecution that he had lost in September of 1896 a pistol in the road near where the body of Charles Howe was found and that afterwards it was found and restored to him by O. H. Wright of Darien, about Oct. 1.

E. Parks and Mrs. Henry Heyer were also sworn and testified that part of the alleged conversation between Mrs. E. Parks and Mrs. Barrett as sworn for the defense was false, at least that part regarding an alleged statement made by Mrs. Parks about seeing the Howe brothers go by her house the night of the murder.

Say Note Was Changed.

William Wells of Darien, for the prosecution, testified as to being present at the time the body was found and Leroy had said to him that he had seen a stranger that night, but could not tell what kind of a looking man he was. H. L. Tooleman of Chicago, was recalled by the court and asked to state if any alterations had been discovered to have been made of the original slip of paper found on the body of Charles Howe while in his (Tooleman's) possession. He testified that he had discovered that such alterations had been made. This was denied on the part of the defense by the introduction of testimony of W. A. Drake of Chicago used in rebuttal.

This closed the case on the part of the defense, the trial consuming eight days. District Attorney Charles P. Sumner made the opening argument, followed by Attorneys D. B. Barnes of Delavan, and M. G. Jeffris of Janesville for the defense.

MATHESON SPOKE AT BELOIT.

Addressed the Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor.

A. E. Matheson addressed the Beloit union of the Young Peoples' Society of Christian Endeavor at a meeting in the Presbyterian church, and in the course of his remarks he said that his reason for appearing before the union was to talk informally on the Christian citizenship movement which the Christian Endeavorers were putting forward and which was now somewhat organized in Rock county.

He told of the Fourth of July celebration at Janesville last year under the direction of the county committee and suggested that Beloit should have the celebration this year. He told what could be accomplished, and continuing, said that he had no desire to antagonize political organizations; he was a partisan himself to a considerable extent, but there are some questions upon which all who desire an improved political condition can unite. At Janesville there have been appointed committees on primaries, on elections and on candidates for office, whose duty it is to examine into the workings of convention, elections and the worthiness of candidates. Bills are before the legislature regulating primaries and on other reform matters and the speaker wanted committees appointed to urge the passage of such bills. He said that it is the unhappy fact that in most every town ordinances are violated, without official interference. He referred to the racing of horses on a Sunday on a public street, one day this winter in Janesville while the chief of police was an interested spectator, showing a looseness in regard to the enforcement of laws in that direction.

"We are working very much in the dark now," he said. "We do not advocate that men rush into these matters blindly, but want them to use diplomacy and understand the situation before they take action."

SHIP MACHINERY TO JAPAN
Big Paper Making Apparatus Will Leave On March 15.

Be'oit, Wis., March 4—March 15 is the date set apart for the completion at the Beloit Iron works of a paper machine for the Yokkaichi Paper company of Japan and on that day the representatives of the company will be in the city to give the machine a final inspection. The machine will weigh 200 tons and is ninety-six inches in width. On completion it will be shipped for Tacoma, where it will be loaded on a steamer of the Japanese line. There was a great deal of competition for the contract, which was given after a personal inspection of the iron works here, and a comparison with other shops. H. Okawa, the American representative of the company, is a graduate of an eastern college, who afterwards worked there three years in a paper factory, after which he returned to Japan and interested native capitalists in the business, returning with a commission to construct for machinery.

ISSUE ON SALOON QUESTION.
License Controversy To Be Fought at Beloit Election.

Beloit, Wis., March 4—The saloon question will probably be met directly upon the issue of license or no license at the coming Beloit election. The advocates of no license have begun an active canvass. The exponents of the license system already claim the victory. The temperance men are divided on putting candidates for offices in the field, many thinking it best to make the fight on the issue direct. The churches have been holding a series of "fellowship" meetings, at which the temperance question was discussed. All the preachers excepting Rev. T. D. Poake of the First Methodist church, are no license men. He holds if the present law were applied no one could continue in the liquor business in Beloit.

ESTATE FORGOTTEN
FOR MANY YEARS

ADMINISTRATOR NOW ASKS FOR APPRAISERS.

Estate of Sarah M. Dyer, Who Died Nearly Two Score of Years Ago Still Unsettled—Beloit Lands of Value May be Effected in Consequence.

An estate, of unknown value, which has been in the Probate court at Milwaukee, for thirty-seven years, was brought out yesterday by Charles A. Hastings, of Somers, who was appointed to administer the estate, October 15, 1860.

The estate is that of Sarah M. Dyer. On the same day that Charles A. Hastings was appointed administrator, John B. Hull and A. M. Chase were appointed to ascertain the value of the estate.

Thirty-seven years have passed, the two appraisers have died, and Mr. Hastings came into court yesterday to have new appraisers named.

William P. Adams and W. M. Britton of Beloit, were appointed.

The petition says that the property is located in the city of Beloit. The records of the court do not show the value or location or the land to which the heirs of Mrs. Dyer lay claim. Property of insignificant value in 1860 might be worth a considerable sum today, and the report of the appraisers may show a considerable estate.

The administrator says nothing about his administration of the estate and it is probable that no steps were ever taken to preserve title to the land.

SHIP MACHINERY TO JAPAN

Big Paper Making Apparatus Will Leave On March 15.

Be'oit, Wis., March 4—March 15 is the date set apart for the completion at the Beloit Iron works of a paper machine for the Yokkaichi Paper company of Japan and on that day the representatives of the company will be in the city to give the machine a final inspection. The machine will weigh 200 tons and is ninety-six inches in width. On completion it will be shipped for Tacoma, where it will be loaded on a steamer of the Japanese line. There was a great deal of competition for the contract, which was given after a personal inspection of the iron works here, and a comparison with other shops. H. Okawa, the American representative of the company, is a graduate of an eastern college, who afterwards worked there three years in a paper factory, after which he returned to Japan and interested native capitalists in the business, returning with a commission to construct for machinery.

SPEAKS TO BELOIT STUDENTS

A. E. Matheson Talks of the Arbitration Treaty at the Line City.

A. E. Matheson, Esq., of Janesville, spoke Tuesday evening at Beloit. Some days ago, Mr. Matheson wrote to President Eaton, asking what the students of Beloit college could do toward the ratification of the arbitration treaty now waiting in the senate. President Eaton, in answer, invited him to address the students on the subject, which he did yesterday in a strong and scholarly way. In beginning he paid a warm tribute to the college as the place where the greatest and best activity of his life had been called forth. President Eaton afterward announced that a committee would be appointed at chapel to draft resolutions expressing the sentiment of the student body in regard to the pending treaty.

MESMERIZED.

Bad Habits Make a Man Act Like He Was Under a Spell.

A man will try to convince himself by arguments so poorly founded that if they were presented by another they would be treated with contempt. As an instance: He may be ailing from the heavy poison of tobacco, or the lighter poison of coffee, the weakened condition will show somewhere in the body; eyes, head, stomach, heart, liver, bowels, or somewhere. His doctor tells him to stop the habit, but each day the thought comes, "O, coffee and tobacco don't hurt me, is my stomach that is at fault; I'll have that cured and everything will be all right," so he keeps on with his habits and goes to drug-store a poor old stomach that would do its work beautifully if the master would furnish enough vitality to run it, but he poisons his nervous system and robs the members of strength to carry on their work. When a man wakes up to what he is doing exchanging his health and chance to succeed in this world for a paltry habit or two, he quits them and follows nature's wise laws.

It is easy to give up coffee if one can have Postum, the Food Coffee, which is a fac-simile in looks of fine Mocha coffee. In taste it retains a like pungency with coffee, but has a distinct flavor of its own. It is made entirely of pure grains, and has the ability to make red blood quickly.

Tobacco, morphine, whiskey, strychnine and coffee each contain much the same poisonous alkaloids, but vary in strength. Postum is a delicious breakfast drink; it is fattening and nourishing, for it is made of the grains intended by the Creator for man's natural use, and scientifically prepared by the Postum Cereal Co. (Lim.), of Battle Creek, Mich.

Beware of the fraudulent imitations of the original Postum Cereal Food Coffee. Insist on Postum.

He Got a Seat.

A well-known actor tells an amusing story of a man who entered the bar-parlor of a country inn on a cold day. A group of loungers were huddled about the fire, and the stranger could not get near enough to keep warm. "Got any oysters?" he asked the landlord, and receiving an affirmative reply, said: "Take a dozen out to my horse." All hands crowded to the door to see the horse eat oysters, and the stranger secured the most comfortable seat. The landlord returned soon, and said the horse refused to eat the shellfish.

"Well, give 'em to me, then," said the foxy visitor, secure in his resting place.—Tit-Bits.

No Hope for Him.

The lover was disconsolate.

"Cheer up," advised his best friend.

"All may yet be well."

"No," answered the lover. "Knowing the disposition of the sex as I do, I can see that there is positively no hope."

"What seems to be the trouble?"

"Her parents insist upon favoring my suit instead of violently opposing it,"—Chicago Post.

His Winning Suit.

All are invited to take part in the discussion.

Modern Improvements.

Fire Insurance Agent—I fear I must charge you extra rates. You burn kerosene oil here, I see.

Mr. Suburb—Yes, but we run no extra risk—no risk at all. The kitchen is separate from the house and there's a skylight in the roof big enough for the servant girl and the cook stove to sail through without hurting anything.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Obedient Wife.

Mr. (just back from a week's absence)—See here, Nellie, you've been going all through my pockets while I was away! Of all the mean, under-handed—

Mrs. (interrupting sweetly)—But, Henry, dear, how unreasonable you are! You told me yourself that while you were gone I must be sure and look after things!—N. Y. Truth.

Missie's Reply.

"Why is your hair so gray, mamma?" A bright little maiden cried:

"You're such a naughty child, sometimes!"

The mother, at once, replied:

"Then, you was worse than I, mamma!"

Said Missie, triumphant, quite:

"Look at grandma's hair, and see:

For it is entirely white!"—Collier's Weekly.

A GOOD BEGINNING.

Doctor—What your husband really wants, madame, is a complete rest. Now, if you could only—

Lady—But he won't listen to me, doctor.

Doctor—Ah! that's a very good beginning.—St. Paul's.

A Toast.

Here's to the prettiest;

Here's to the wittiest;

Here's to the truest of all who are true;

Here's to the nearest one;

Here's to the sweetest one;

Here's to them all in one—wife, here's to you.

—Chicago Times-Herald.

Not a Bit Frightened.

A little girl sat gazing fixedly at the new bonnet of one of her mother's visitors, until the caller smilingly asked:

"Do you like it, my dear?"

"The child innocently replied:

"Yes, I do. Mamma and Aunt Milly said it was a perfect fright, but it doesn't frighten me a bit."—Tit-Bits.

A Hopeful Circumstance.

"I think," said young Mrs. Torkins, "that we will like the new servant better than we did the other."

"For what reason?" inquired her husband.

"She carries a smaller basket to and from her home."—Washington Star.

Had Joined the Church.

Clerk—Sir, I've joined the church.

Grocer—Right glad to hear it; I've been a member for some years; it's a splendid thing, and—

"Yes, sir; and will you get some other clerk to sell those pure spices now?"—Adams Freeman.

For the Fire.

Mrs. Query—Did you save any of your clothes?

Mrs. Deery—No. I only had time to take the papers out of my hair and put on my best nightdress.—Up-to-Date.

A Good Scheme.

Mrs. Bigsby lets her husband practice on his cornet at home.

"What's that for?"

"It gives her an excuse to be away all the time."—Chicago Record.

Noah Was Prophet.

Sunday School Teacher—Who was Noah?

Pupil—He was a weather prophet. When he said it was going to rain, nobody believed him.—N. Y. Tribune.

An Important Question.

"He told me, papa, that his sole aim in life would be to make me happy."

"Who in thunder's goin' to make the livin' then?" snorted the old gentleman.—Detroit Free Press.

Did Him a Favor.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

CHICAGO'S SUCCESSFUL GIRL MANAGER AND DIRECTOR.

The Woman of the Middle West—Summer Millinery—Hair Coloring—Girls in the Coal Pits—A Famous Woman Sculptor—The Woman's Council.

Since the time of Mother Eve woman has been "managing things," though it is only in these end of the century days that she has ventured to extend her sphere beyond the walls of her house. But this age is one of progression, and when woman once gained a footing in the business world she decided to turn her talent for managing, inherited from generations of capable housekeepers, to some account in the new field.

There are but few to be found in the audiences at the Chicago orchestra concerts who do not know of Miss Anna Millar, the bright young woman who is the business manager of the orchestra. Until recently Miss Millar was the only one of her sex to hold such a position in Chicago, but now in Steinway hall is the office of another young woman whose card reads:

L. E. RANDALL.

Business Manager.

Miss Lillian E. Randall—for that is her full name—doesn't look as if she could manage anything more earthly than a slice of angel food or a lemon ice, but she is known in musical circles as a most successful manager of concerts.

and lectures. She is tall and fair, with the same kind of blue eyes The Duchess used to give her heroines and hair that nature and not the hairdresser has made fair.

She doesn't wear queerly made frocks or mannish looking hats. She doesn't spell woman with a big W, nor does she talk aggressively about the "downtrodden sex." She talks about interesting things when she talks at all, and the rest of the time she works.

One year ago she was known as a clever accompanist and a teacher of music in Hyde Park, where she lives. One day she undertook, to oblige a friend who was ill, the disposal of 50 tickets for a Sunday afternoon concert. She was so successful in this that the field into which she had accidentally strayed opened wide before her, and as it teemed with possibilities she staid there.

This winter her work has been confined mainly to superintending parlor recitals, one of them being the Chicago debut of Mrs. Swabacher, at the residence of Mrs. P. D. Armour, Jr. She has also managed several dramatic readers, concert singers and lecturers, among the latter being Mr. William Armstrong, the musical critic who has pleased many audiences as critical as himself with his lecture on "Unpublished Interviews With Great Musicians."

Miss Randall, who, it is whispered, is an own cousin to a title across the water, is as much of a success in her home and the social world as she is in the one of business. She lives with her mother, whose hands are raised in indignation if any one, even jokingly, refers to her daughter as a "new woman."—Chicago Tribune.

The Woman of the Middle West.

The woman of the west is the spirit of energy. It is an inheritance from her immediate ancestors, who worked unceasingly as founders of states. She has not yet been seized with the weary satiety of overcivilization and feels a joy in labor and its fruits. She prefers activity, and if life offers her leisure she accepts a child or a career and works for her self sought object.

The double task of making a home and developing the country has been through her so thoroughly accomplished that, with all our vast territory, we have scarcely a district that might truly be spoken of as the frontier. This achievement liberates for other uses the energy of woman, and, true to the spirit of the times, she casts about her for a career other than a domestic one.

Even in the small towns of newly settled districts the daughters of the family do not settle down to an interminable round of spiritless housework, but instead start out with their brothers to their day's work as stenographer, typewriter, clerk or teacher. None is idle or fills the position of lady of leisure, for such would be companionless.

The women with genuine business ability test it in a little boat near shore, and, meeting success, go farther to venture more. The woman with a talent or a voice migrates to a city favorable for its cultivation, and the old profession of teaching has its countless aspirants, all eager to learn new methods.

Besides all these are the young women who could lead a life of uneventful comfort at home in larger places, but who prefer the hazards of self support in the world to monotony in a smaller sphere. So there comes a day when these, too, join the army thronging to the large cities.

The education of books and colleges is of primary importance in their mind just now, but by and by they will realize that the world bestows more of its wealth (and that means power) on those who possess knowledge of men and an ability to recognize opportunity when it is met and to seize it before it has fled.

Another lesson the girl of the plains must learn is that manner and address enhance what other claims to success she may possess and are not to be despised as evidence of decadence or effete-ness. All honesty is not rude, and a polished manner enables one to meet any man on advantageous ground, while a faulty manner is acceptable only to those whose ways are equally defective.

The effect of refinement and civilization, by making all conform to given standards, is to reduce all to the same mold. The woman of the west need not fear that her rugged individuality will be thus obliterated, for she lives too near to nature's heart. The freedom of the plains, the large liberty of her native land, have been infused into her blood, and she will remain as she is—a woman whose labor is the result of thought, whose opinions are the result of honest conviction, and whose love of self is lost in love of mankind and of country.—Harper's Bazar.

Fighting the Bustle.

The French modiste insists upon the return of the bustle, but the strong, athletic, healthy woman rebels against the suggestion, just as she has rejected the voluminously draped skirts. Freedom from fashion's tyranny, where it impedes the easy, graceful movement now so much prized by sensible women, is becoming rather difficult to suppress.

Why He Was Wicked.

"Why is it," said his mother to little Willie, "that you always make so much noise in the house when your Aunt May comes to see us?"

"'Cos when I'm good," said little Willie, "she sings to me."—Up-to-Date.

FRANK VOSS IS WELL KNOWN

Friends Refuse To Believe He Robbed the Avon Postoffice.

Frank Voss, the young man who was arrested on the charge of robbing the postoffice at Avon, is well known, and his friends refuse to believe him guilty. He stoutly maintains his innocence. His mother furnished his bail bond of $350. About the middle of last January the Avon postoffice was robbed of a letter containing sixty-two dollars in money, and at the same time several dollars' worth of merchandise was taken from the store, where the office was located. The money taken was a registered package sent through the mail by the Modern Woodmen's Camp of Avon. Voss was arrested by Marshal Appleby of Reister yesterday, and brought before Justice of the Peace Charles Kendall, who postponed the examination for a week.

BEERS IS NOW POSTAL CLERK

Janesville Man Passes the Examination, and Is Waiting For Orders.

Bert Beers of this city, is now a railway mail clerk, he having recently passed the civil service examination. At present he is on the substitute roll, with orders to report in Chicago at any time that he may be summoned. Mr. Beers' numerous friends will congratulate him on his success.

A COLUMN OF LOCAL GOSSIP.

The Vaudeville company are at the Myers.

Smith's orchestra left this afternoon for Richmond, Ill.

H. F. HELDERBRANT, of Ripon, and a former local hotel clerk, was in town today.

Cold weather to come. The one-third price on cloaks still holds good at T. P. Burns.

We have received during last week large invoices of spring dress goods, silks and new braid trimmings. T. P. Burns.

Dress Skirts.

We have just added a new department you might say to our business, that of dress skirts. We have never handled them before and have received a most complete line of them all new styles and absolutely correct patterns. Never having handled them before we have no old styles on goods to show you. In our large ad. page 8 this evening we give you a list and prices that are of interest to every lady. Bork, Ralston & Co.

Moore-Adams.

Last evening at 6 o'clock in the parlors of the Grand Hotel, Rev. F. A. Peace performed the ceremony that united as husband and wife William Moore and Miss Rosa Adams, both of Beloit. Mrs. Moore was a former resident of Rockford, while the groom is a well known Line City liverrman.

American Citizens to Be Tried.

Havana, March 4.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press is informed upon good authority that positive orders have been issued to the civil and military authorities throughout Cuba to try, with all possible haste and in the most satisfactory manner available, all American citizens who are now in jail, and to expel those found guilty from the island.

CHICAGO MARKETS BY WIRE.

Change of Administration Has a Bullish Effect—Today's Quotations.

Chicago, March 4.—[Special]—Primary receipts are 304,000 compared with 259,000 and exports are 138,000 compared with 136,000 last week. The northwest has 317 cars compared with 198 last week and 310 last year. The snow blockade is over and receipts will be liberal from now on. Stocks in the far northwest country elevators are 12 and half millions or the same as a month ago. This disproves the assertion that receipts have not come from farmers bins. It also proves that farmers have lots of wheat for sale. Our market is nervous. The change in administration had a bullish influence. Everybody regardless of politics, welcomes a change and will aid in bringing about better times. It should be reflected in the wheat market and I have felt for three days that it would be, for prices are largely a matter of sentiment and the political situation abroad should not be ignored in the wheat data. A speculative bulge is probable and I like to be in shape to advise selling when it comes instead of being compelled to care shorts on the top. As regards crop reports these observations can be made: That conditions have been perfect; that some damage always occurs, or we would raise more in one year than we could sell in two. Partial damage is a usual condition and we will have it this year, but any general damage is impossible unless we get it from bugs in May. A large spring wheat crop is already assured, because the fundamental conditions are perfect and a large acreage certain. I welcome a sentimental advance and would cheerfully pray for it. Corn is practically unchanged, but provisions are again higher. The packers and the locals may flirt with it and tip it down but some May day they will want to buy it and then they will have to pay much more for it. It is worth the money. The price is unprecipitously low, and stocks are moderate to small, except on land which is let alone.

TO LECTURE ON TEMPERANCE

Rev. Father Campbell of Elroy, to Address a Janesville Audience.

Rev. Father Campbell of Elroy, will lecture at St. Patrick's church next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Campbell is the president of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union and the lecture will be delivered Monday evening will be in the cause of temperance. No admission will be charged and there is little doubt but what he will be greeted by a large audience. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the local T. A. & B. society.

TO LISTEN TO GRAND OPERA.

Many Janesville People Hear the Singers at the Auditorium.

The season of grand opera at the Auditorium, Chicago, is attracting local music lovers to that city and each year Janesville contributes a goodly sum to the "cause." Among those who expect to attend next week are Mrs. M. G. Jeffries, Mrs. D. W. Watt, Mrs. J. F. Sweeney, Mrs. Harriet Torrens, Mrs. J. W. St. John and Miss Jeannet B. Alvord.

May Cut Wages Five Cents.

Brail, Ind., March 4.—The block coal operators and miners' scale committee met here Wednesday in a called session for the purpose of discussing a proposed cut of 5 cents per ton by the operators, to take effect at once. The present contract stipulates that in case competing fields make reductions the miners here were to suffer a 5-cent cut. No action will be taken until the miners of the district vote on the proposed cut. Another meeting will be held Saturday for final settlement.

Sherman Resigns as Senator.

Washington, March 4.—Senator John Sherman of Ohio has tendered his resignation to Gov. Bushnell, to take effect March 5. The official appointment by the governor of Mark Hanna to succeed Mr. Sherman in the senate is on its way here and will be delivered to Mr. Hanna today, to take effect March 5.

New Senator from Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., March 4.—A. T. Wood of Mount Sterling will succeed J. C. S. Blackburn in the United States senate by appointment of Gov. Bradley. The appointment was decided upon after the governor had offered the honor to St. John Boyle of this city, who refused it.

Release of Competitor Men Rumored.

Key West, Fla., March 4.—Passengers by the steamship Mascotte from Havana report that the crew of the Competitor have been released and that the schooner has been restored to them. This report is not confirmed.

Four Men Killed in a Bull Fight.

Torreón, Mexico, March 4.—Four men were killed in the bull fights at Durango, and as many horses gored to death.

Cornelius N. Bliss was born in Fall River, Mass., about sixty years ago. He has never before held political office, but has been treasurer of the Republican national committee.

To Regulate Private Banks.

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—Both houses of the Legislature held perfunctory sessions Wednesday and adjourned until Friday. Senator Morrison brought with him from Chicago a bill to regulate the business of private banking, which he intended to introduce, but deferred presenting until a larger number of senators shall be present. Its chief object, Senator Morrison says, is to protect depositors. He believes the measure would redound to the credit of private banks of good standing. The bill declares the business of banking to be a public business, subject to regulation under the police power of the state.

Little Hope for Durrant.

San Francisco, Cal., March 4.—The Supreme court Wednesday affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Theodore Durrant, found guilty of the murder of Blanche Lamont in Emanuel church almost two years ago. He appealed from the verdict of guilty, alleging errors in the rulings of the trial judge, and filing a voluminous bill of exceptions. The trial judge, however, was upheld in all the disputed rulings, and the verdict approved by the Supreme court, which will fix a date for Durrant's execution.

Miners Near Starvation.

Lansing, Mich., March 4.—President Barter of the State Federation of Labor has returned from Norway, in the upper peninsula, where he has been investigating the condition of the miners who have been out on a strike for some months. He says that fully 1,000 persons are on the verge of starvation, many of them having been living for some time on one meal a day. The legislature will be asked to make an appropriation for their aid.

Bribery Talk at Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 4.—Secretary Kuolt of the health department affirms that bribery was attempted in connection with the medical bill. Positive proof can be furnished, Mr. Kuolt declares, that a member of the legislature stated that he had been offered inducements by the opponents of the bill, but that he would vote for it, and also undertake to secure a unanimous committee report recommending its passage, if he were given $100.

Corwine Arrested at Chicago.

Chicago, March 4.—John Corwine, paymaster for the United States navy at Newport, R. I., is being held at the Harrison street police station as an absconder. He was arrested at the Palmer house yesterday afternoon, and when taken to the Central police station made a confession in which he admitted having robbed the government of $10,000 during the time that he held the position of paymaster. He could offer no excuse for his peculations, and said he did not have the slightest idea as to what he would have done with the money in the event of his not being arrested.

Terms of the Collective Note.

Constantinople, March 4.—The collective note signed by the ambassadors of the six powers, which was presented to the Turkish government Tuesday, declares that the powers are desirous of putting a stop to the deplorable condition of affairs in Crete, due to the delay in the execution of the reforms. They declare that complete autonomy should be conferred upon Crete under the suzerainty of the Sultan, and conclude with stating that Greece has been called upon to withdraw her military and naval forces from Crete.

Electric Power-House Burns.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 4.—The big power house of the Union Traction Company at the junction of Thirteenth and Mount Vernon streets and Ridge avenue was destroyed by fire last night. Nearly all the costly dynamos and other electric machinery will be a total loss. Two men lost their lives and several others were slightly injured. The damage from the fire will amount to about $350,000, fully covered by insurance. Nearly all of the principal trolley lines in the city are tied up.

Plymouth, Wis., March 2.—Mrs. W. E. With died at her home in this city, after an illness of two weeks.

The Fire Alarm!

Janesville firemen realize that there is a difference in the result when they are one minute instead of twenty go to a fire. Every person in this city who has been treated by the New York Specialist has shown wonderful improvement, while a few have been discharged, cured.

When we know that these cases were of a chronic type of long standing, and had been treated by prominent physicians who pronounced them incurable; we must admit that his methods are different from the methods of those who failed to cure, while the result would indicate that his methods are correct. Yet, delays are dangerous. When your house takes fire you waste no time in experiments. If your body is in danger act as promptly as there will be less damage to repair. You can build another house, but extra bodies are not supplied.

FIRE RISK RATE TAKES A DROP

Liberal Reduction Ordered by State Inspector Hershey

MERCHANTS AND PROPERTY OWNERS HELPED.

Change is Especially of Benefit to Firms and Realty Proprietors Inside the Fire Limits. Although Reductions Extend to Property Outside The Hazard Line—Graceful Recognition of the Efficient Fire Department and the Men in Charge Thereof.

Fire insurance agents throughout the city received notice today from State Fire Insurance Inspector H. H.
Hershey of a reduction of rates that means a saving of hundreds of dollars to both merchants and property holders.

The reduction will apply principally to buildings and stock in the "fire limit."

Buildings and stock in other sections of the city are also benefitted but not so largely. Insurance rates on stock that is carried by merchants on the east half of the bridge has dropped from $4.50 to $3.75 while on the buildings a reduction is made from $6 to $5.

On South Main street buildings the reduction has been fifteen cents on a hundred, while on stock, a reduction of ten cents on every hundred dollars is made.

With merchants carrying stock valued at from $5,000 to $10,000, the reduction means a large saving. A prominent insurance man said this noon that the insurance companies interested here have had this matter under advice for some time, and now that the opportunity of a reduction has presented itself, the companies decided to act accordingly.

The reduction is a fitting recognition of Janesville's splendid fire department and a compliment to Chief Spencer and his men.

THE FAIR MADE TRADE GOOD

Hotels, Restaurants and Liverymen
Reaped the Most Benefit

During the past few days, business has been brisk in this city, and the revival has been wholly due to the Midwinter fair. The hotels have been liberally patronized, and the restaurant keepers report a good business.
Local livery barns were crowded yesterday.

BEYOND THE CARES OF EARTH.

Mrs. E. S. Casler.

Evansville, Wis., March 4.—[Special] —Mrs. E. S. Casler died at her home in this city yesterday, of heart failure, aged sixty-six years. Mrs. Casler was born in St. Lawrence county, New York, in 1830. She married E. S.
Casler, a carpenter, about forty-four years ago, and came to Wisconsin about forty-one years ago, having resided in Rock county most of the time.
She leaves a husband; a sister, Mrs. H.
B. Cook of this city; eight children, two sons and six daughters, and two step-daughters, to mourn her loss. The children are: Henry S. Casler of Nebraska; Mrs. Clara M. Childs of Nebraska; Miss Alma Casler of Evansville, Wis.; Miss Alice Casler of Evansville, Wis.; Mrs. Lucy Shannon of Edgerton; Mrs. Nellie Saunders, Albion; Mrs. Ida M. Atwood, Chicago; Ernest Casler, Evansville; and two step daughters, Mrs. Kicker of Chicago; and Mrs. Mary Brigham of Evansville. Funeral takes place at the home Friday forenoon, interment being at Stoughton.

Mrs. Henrietta Cross Cuckow.

After a brief illness Mrs. Henrietta Cross Cuckow died from pneumonia at her home in Lynn, Moody county, S.
D., at twenty-five minutes past 4 o'clock a. m., Feb. 27. She was born at Corydon, Penn., Jan. 24, 1843 and was married to Thomas J. Cuckow at Marshall Dane county, Wis., June 1, 1871. Besides her husband, four children were left to mourn the loss of a loving mother whose every thought was for their welfare. The funeral services were held Sunday, Feb. 28 at the First M. E. church and her remains were laid to rest beside her youngest daughter in Dell Rapids cemetery.

and try them. Sanborn & Co.

WE show a line of dress skirts at $4.29, that the material alone would cost you that should you start a skirt yourself, so you see you save the price of making it. Bort, Bailey & Co.

SPRING has opened at H. Hoffman & Sons, as the window full of spring dress goods show. The new patterns are very enticing and the bargains offered for Friday and Saturday should be draying cards.

WANT THE ROUND UP HELD HERE IN '98

FARMERS ADOPT RESOLUTIONS TO REGENTS.

Great Interest Shown Both By Business Men of the City, and the Til-lers of Old Rock's Acres, Entitles Them to The Big Institute Next Year.

The immense success of the midwinter fair and institute has given impetus to the campaign for next years round-up. A petition asking that the 1898 round-up be held in Janesville was signed very generally at the Court House meeting and at the fair.

Before the morning session of the institute ended Ogden H. Fethers presented the claims of Rock county very forcibly. He was applauded to the echo as he set forth the advantages of Janesville as a place for the big annual rally of institute workers.

Prof. W. A. Henry, dean of the state agricultural college seconded Mr. Fethers in a rousing speech and several representative Rock county farmers were heard. J. B. Humphrey, of Afton, proposed this resolution which was adopted amid enthusiasm:

WHEREAS, the citizens of Janesville have, by their untiring energy and unbounded generosity and hospitality, demonstrated their interest in the farmers of Rock county; and

WHEREAS, The farmers of Rock county have shown their great interest in the Farmers' Institute and Midwinter Fair now being held in this city, by large attendance and by a magnificent exhibit of the products from the farm; therefore, to it

RESOLVED, That we the farmers of Rock county here assembled, unite with the citizens of Janesville in an earnest appeal to the Board of Regents of the State University, to hold the round-up institute for 1898 at Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin.

Horse Display a Feature.

The horse display has been a great feature of the fair. The showing of general purpose farm horses brought out thirty-two teams, while there were thirty roadsters in line. The grade of the farm teams was exceptionally high, not more than four or five teams in the entire lot ranking lower than first class. The need of a more thorough division was apparent, however, as the weights ranged from 1,200 to 1,800 pounds.

Five thousand people saw the first display, and the crowd looked almost as big when the carriage horses and carriage teams were brought out.
There were thirty-four entries in the first and twenty-six in the second.

The awards in the carriage classes
follow:

Best Carriage Team—G. A. Fisher
1st, our own hand made swell body cutter, value $40, Janesville Carriage Works; W. T. Decker 2d, Star safety racer set, $6, A. H. Sheldon & Co.; M. D. Owen 3d, Riker's best heavy halter, Riker Brothers; Clinton Rabbitt 4th, two bottles colic mixture, Dr.
Robert L. Brown.

Best Single Carriage Horse—Frank Finck 1st, double section Osborn lever barrow, $12, Fred Burton; Wallace M. Day 2nd, plush robe, $5, Bassett & Echlin; G. C. Austin 3rd, Longley fedora hat, $3, S. D. Grubb; Frank Davis 4th, Raven horse food, Dave Brown.

The store was crowded all morning, and the judging was completed under difficulties. At 1 o'clock when the delivery of goods and prizes began, however, the rush of the early hours faded away into insignificance. There had been a heavy sale of cakes, pies, etc. all morning, but over 3,000 exhibits remained on the shelves and the sorting out of these, delivering them to anxious owners and passing out the prizes was a heavy task.

The prizes with hardly an exception were even greater in value than the descriptions indicated and prize winners were delighted as they saw the deliveries made.

The second day of the cooking school was given up more largely to the ladies of this city, there being more room, on account of the fact that the country people were busy downstairs receiving their goods.
Miss Clarke's work was as satisfactory as it had been from the first and she received many compliments.

Prizes awarded this afternoon included:

The Best Looking Young Lady between the ages of Sixteen and Twenty Pearl Briggs Johnston, 1st, pair $6
Shoes, F. M. Marzuff & Co.; Emma Gayde Milton Junction, 2nd, 5 pound box Fine Hand Made Chocolate, by E.
DeForest, agent; Leo Coon Milton Junction, 3d, Perfume Atomizer filled with Cologne, E. I. O. Smith & Co.

THE MANLEY CASE IS NOW ON TRIAL

SHOPIERE TROUBLE BEING AIDED IN COURT.

Fifteen Witnesses Are on Hand and a Jury of Four Men Are Listening to the Testimony—Doctor and a Barber Have a Lawsuit at Milton.

Before a jury of four the assault and battery case of the State of Wisconsin against Dr. Manley and his two sons, of Shopiere, was commenced this morning in the municipal court.
The jury was composed of Neis Carlson, D. W. Watt, S. L. James and Lars Engbretson. C. E. Pierce conducted the prosecution while Ogden H.
Fethers pleaded for the defendants.

The morning was taken up to the examination of several witnesses for the state. Nothing of a startling nature was developed by their evidence.
The fact that Mrs. Manley drew a revolver in the trouble with Steadwell, is admitted by her husband. Over fifteen witnesses were here from Shop-iere and vicinity.

Shaving Case On Trial.

Whitehead, Matheson & Smith today commenced suit at Milton Junction in behalf of Philip Jones against Dr. W. H. Orvitt of Milton. Jones is the village barber and he says that after cutting the doctor's hair and shaving him until the bill reached $13.75, the bill remained unpaid; but the doctor takes a different view of the matter. He says that he will admit that he had the charges made but that in so doing he had an object in view. Jones, he said, owed him a bill for about $16 and that in payment of the account Jones gave him an order on a third party. This order, the doctor, it is said, accepted as full settlement but now he claims he did not collect it, and that his bill should offset Jones' account. The suit is being tried before a jury.

COMING FASHIONS.

Bodices For Young Girls—Greens and Purples in Various Shades.

Modistes are beginning to desire some change from the too well loved bolero and are exerting all their ingenuity in devising some other kind of bodice that shall yet show a glimpse or chemisette, for it is the opportunities afforded by the bolero that give it its vogue—the opportunities of displaying full fronts of thin silk, mousseline de soie or lace, which are universally becoming. Every effort is being made to keep the bolero alive. It is slashed, embroidered with gold, silver and steel, adorned with applications of guipure, trimmed with revers of another color and ornamented with lace and plaitings.

Among the new bodices are some especially appropriate for young girls. These are full from the waist line to the height of the corselet, where they are cut into straps, which are of different lengths, according as they extend to the collar, the shoulder or the armhole. These straps are enriched by borders of passementerie, embroidery, lace, guipure, whatever decoration the fancy dictates. Black embroidery, much in favor just now, is thus employed.

Next season's preferred colors will be a variation on those of the past one. Mauve,

SILK COSTUME.

Blue and violet tones combined with pale green, lettuce green, willow green and other shades will be much employed. In fact, green will continue to be the dominant note. Green and white is the coming combination, green being trimmed with revers of white silk or jabots and plaitings of white gauze.

The wraps of the demiseason are almost all of cloth. Jackets, capes and redingotes are all made of this material, the latter garments being very little trimmed, except by elaborate buttons and revers. The style of the redingote rests in its shape and cut, which must be irreproachable.

A picture is given of a costume of rose peau de soie. The skirt is plain. The bodice has a large plait in front and a bolero of guipure. The sleeves have small puffs at the top and are cut in square tabs at the wrist. There are epaulets of guipure. JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHIONABLE ACCESSORIES.

Pink and Cherry Color in Fashionable Millinery—Feather Boas.

All the most elegant hats are trimmed with flowers in more or less profusion. Violets are still exceedingly fashionable and are seen in all shades of purple, in white and in black. Roses are likewise much employed in cambric, silk, velvet and plush. Some of them are close imitations of nature. Others in green, blue and purple have no resemblance, except in general shape, to the real flower.

Cherry tones and very deep pinks are in favor for millinery purposes. One of the new models is a black hat with a fancy crown of deep pink velvet and a trimming of black ostrich plumes and pink silk and velvet roses of several shades. Green and blue and green and purple changeable effects are still enjoying great popularity.

Short and moderately long boas of eek feathers and ostrich plumes are worn, but fur boas are little seen, fur arrangements for the neck being more in the line of collars of various shapes and sizes. Ruches of ribbon, mousseline de soie, gauze and flowers are also liked, but are not durable.

Handkerchiefs become smaller and smaller, and there is a fancy for sheer ones of plain linen lawn, surmounted by narrow lace and having a small cipher embroidered in the corner. The prevailing fad is to tuck the handkerchief in the sleeve or even in the glove, but this style has manifest disadvantages, which only persons who devote themselves to novelties can afford to overlook. Colored handkerchiefs have declined in favor, except that the new ceru lins, embroidered in black and white, have often handkerchiefs to match. Pure white ones are always preferable, on the same principle that pure white underwear and table linen are most pleasing.

The picture shows a costume of steel gray amazon cloth. The tablier of the skirt is framed in two long straps of black velvet, having graduated tabs fastened with gold buttons. The bolero of gray cloth is trimmed with black velvet, and there are lower bolero fronts of green cloth trimmed with green cord and gold buttons. The chemisette of pink silk is gathered in at the waist by a belt of black velvet, fastening with a gold buckle. The cravat of white embroidered gauze forms a jabot down the front. The sleeves are of gray cloth adorned with black velvet and gold buttons. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Tailor Made Gowns.

The class of gowns which are most needed in the very early spring, says a New York fashion writer, is the simple tailor made type—jacket and skirt. The very plainest models are the best, the coat neither tight fitting nor at all loose, just easy, but without a wrinkle and cut either double breasted, turned away slightly at the throat to show the linen collar or the fancy stock of the bodice beneath or else open fronted over a narrow waistcoat. This, with a silk lined, perfectly hanging skirt, is all that can be desired, and a good sum of money expended on a first class quality of material, a silk lining that is now not an extravagance, is far and away a better choice than to fritter twice this amount away in haphazard purchases which in the end bring no such result for the money as the first seemingly expensive gown. No other sort of costume looks at once so neat, sensible, and it by no means lacks style. Most women provide themselves with one or two smart silk or fancy satin blouses to wear with the skirt indoors, but it is far better, if possible, to keep a walking dress exclusively for that purpose. On the sample cards is a new shade in gray that suggests mauve, and this in tweed or cloth will make a very becoming and stylish spring costume.

Zinc "Wall Paper."

Zinc "wall paper" is the latest oddity, and several residences of the highest class now building will be equipped with the zinc papers, which are prepared by a new process so as to exactly resemble marble. The most beautiful varieties of marble are imitated in such a manner that the imposture is only to be detected after a close examination.

The zinc is attached to the wall by a cement invented for the purpose. The surface of the zinc is enameled so as to render it permanent and washable. Tiles or any other form of mural covering can be imitated as readily as marble, and the material is made in a great variety of patterns.

It is claimed for this new departure in decorative material that while it is as permanent as tiles or marble it is much cheaper and can be as easily put on as ordinary wall paper. It can be applied, too, to any surface, whether flat, broken or round, and any beading, etc., can be embossed on the metal to complete a design or panel.—Decorator and Furnisher.

Only an Incident.

A few days ago I visited a large foundry on the West Side which turns out drop forgings of all kinds and heavy castings. I noticed several Polish girls carrying rosin across the foundry, taking the rosin out of one barrel and depositing it in another.

"I don't understand the necessity for that," I remarked.

"It is done in order to harden the girls' hands, so that they can handle castings," the foreman explained.

"If we really wanted to transfer the rosin, a half dozen men could roll those barrels into place in five minutes. The girls are not intelligent enough to understand why they are carrying the rosin about like that. Every one of them imagines that we want the rosin transferred and that there is no other way to do it than to carry it across the room piecemeal." Talk about the conservation of energy!—Frank S. Pixley in Chicago Times-Herald.

A Boon For Mothers.

Passing along a quiet suburban street recently, a city visitor saw a card in a window bearing this notice:

"Babies cared for while mothers attend church, matinees or go shopping. Charges moderate."

The stranger stepped in to acquire some information about a business so new to her and was met by a pleasant faced woman, who ushered her into the room where she was caring for three or four children. Two were quite young babies and lay in a crib, contentedly nursing bottles. The woman said that scarcely a day passed without her having at least one child to care for and often as many as six, from small babies to children of 5 years and older. The mothers brought food for them and paid 5 cents an hour through the day, 10 cents an hour through the evening, thus gaining leisure to attend church, fairs, picnics and theaters.—Chicago Chronicle.

Clever Captain Clark.

Miss Elizabeth M. Clark, or, as she is known in the Salvation Army, Captain Clark, is a rather remarkable young woman quite apart from her connection with the Salvationists. She is a great-niece of Bishop Clark of Rhode Island, the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal house of bishops, and is the daughter of a clergyman of the Dutch Reformed church. She prepared for college at Wellesley, spent three years at Bryn Mawr and then went abroad and entered the University of Zurich, where she devoted herself to the study of Teutonic philology. While there she met General Booth and had her interest aroused in the Army, although she did not join it until some time later. She does editorial work on Army publications in addition to her other duties.

The German Empress.

The Gentlewoman says that almost all the morning dresses worn by the German empress are made at home, and her majesty in this way is able to economize greatly. When in private, she likes to be dressed as simply as possible, and her favorite costume is a serge skirt, with a pretty blouse and a simple straw hat. She has, however, one great trial, and that is a tendency to grow stout. For herself she would not mind, but the emperor has a horror of having a fat wife, and the poor empress is obliged to diet herself and to wear clothes much too tight for her. This is said to be the greatest trial of her life, as the emperor is always advising her what to do and insists upon her taking an immense amount of exercise. Her majesty, however, has still a shapely figure, and she is less stout than she was a year ago.

A Hero of the War.

During an attack upon Fort Sumpter, in the early days of the rebellion, while the battle was raging at its fiercest, a bomb shell with fuse dangerously short and still sputtering fell within ten feet of a squad of men. Spell bound with horror, not a man moved, all expecting instant death. One little Irishman, however, jumped quickly from the group, grasped the fuse in his hands and rubbed it out. And then went back to work.

That which might have laid a hundred men cold in death was now a harmless bit of iron.

Disease, like a sputtering fuse, may often be nipped in the nick of time. Just so.

Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills have saved thousands of lives by their timely action and they stand today as great a hero in the fight against Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism and death as the little Irishman within the walls of Fort Sumpter.

Recommended by an Old Hospital Steward.

To whom it may concern: Permit me to say that Dr. Hobbs Sparagus Kidney Pills are the best of my experience in medicine as Hospital Steward of 169th New York. They are without exception a blessing to mankind, don't fail to give them a trial.

STRONG & GARFIELD

Enamel Shoes, Orient last like cut, reduced to

$4.00 FROM $7.00

The most credulous ones say "There must be some mistake; probably never sold for $7.00." But they have, all the season. $4.00 doesn't let us out on the cost of them. They must go; we need room; we can't afford to carry them over, and therefore make this unheard of sacrifice. Every good point known to fine shoemaking is embodied in these shoes.

ONE MORE REDUCTION

Strong & Garfield $5.00 Patent Leather Shoes, guaranteed strictly hand made shoes, go for $3.50.

We certainly could not make a living should we sell shoes at these prices all the time, but our anxiety to clean up for spring stock drives us to it. Winter is not over of course; lots of time to wear heavy shoes

Men's $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00 shoes, a few odd sizes, go at $2.00

Great bargains if you can get your size. Always bear in mind the fact that your cash buys shoes of us—nothing else. We save you money on shoe leather.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

PAPER DOLLS.

How They Are Made and How a Lot of Fun May Be Had With Them.

Many years ago paper dolls were not made in such elaborate and beautiful styles as they are now. And they were much more expensive. Today, for a cent or perhaps for 5 cents, you can buy a handsomely tinted cardboard lady or gentleman or boy or girl, each with a collection of costumes of various sorts. So we do not have as much fun cutting paper dollies of newspapers as we used to do.

In those days, on a rainy afternoon, when other amusements failed, mamma would take a newspaper and cut a long strip, the length of the paper and perhaps 4 to 6 inches wide. This she folded once in the middle, then again in the middle, and again, until the strip was folded many times. Then she cut from this what looked like one paper girl until you opened the strip of paper, when a whole row of paper children appeared, looking like this:

Or this:

These dollies, as you see, or as some of you who have seen them before know, can be cut in all sorts of shapes and sizes. Big boys and little, tiny girls and grown up women, soldiers with guns and sailors can be had, all with their hands clasped together, if you cut them the proper way, and whole regiments just alike.

Then sometimes we fastened the hands of the end dollies, and, behold, a ring of them, which could be made to stand upon the floor! And this amused baby so much that presently the floor was covered with dancing rings of boys and girls, until baby, eager for new fun, blew them over or kicked them down with her restless little feet.

Then there were big, comical creatures, that were cut out to stick upon the ceiling and dance. A long, queer, paper man or a fat woman was made and a small hole cut in its head near the top. To this we tied a cotton thread, and the other end of the thread was fastened to a scientifically made spitball. We became quite expert in the manufacture of just the proper kind, shape and size of the spitballs. They had to be of a good size and chewed soft enough to stick well if they were intended to hold up a good sized dancer.

These we throw up, with unerring aim, climbing upon chairs, beds or anything else that came handy in order to reach better. One after another of our paper creatures was thrown up until they stuck fast to the ceiling and hung there. Then somebody made them dance for the amusement of the younger fry. If Jack or Charlie were the showman, he took a fan and used it with such good force that our dangle paper men and women danced and waved about in fine style. Sometimes we suspended them over the registers to make them dance, and sometimes violently opening and closing the closet doors produced a good effect in making the dancers perform their gyrations.

My Pony.

A pony's such fun!
I've only just one,
But he'll carry me over the moon,
From the earth to the sky,
In the wink of an eye
And carry me back as soon.

Hot mornings we stroll
From Yakutsk to the pole—
The trip occupies but a minute—
But in winter there's greater Fun at the equator;
So I skip to the Nile and jump in it.

My pony likes water,
As any horse oughter,
And sails on the billowy sea,
In Eskimo kayaks
Or in proas with dyaks,
Just wherever he thinks will suit me.

We've no time to tire,
There's so much to admire
In the strange, faroff lands that we roam,
With Tibetans and Japs
And other odd chaps,
Till supper time summons us home.

We sample all climates,
And even past time it's
So nice to live over again.
So we help the crusaders,
Lick Saracen raiders,
Or sail with Columbus from Spain.

And my pony's so cheap
And so easy to keep,
For he lives without clover or sheave.
Your pony's named Nero?
Yours Molly? Yours Hero?
Well, my pony's called Make Believe.
—J. L. Heaton in "The Quilting Bee."

Water and Ink Trick.

Fill a couple of wineglasses with water. To the one add a very small pinch of sulphate of iron and to the other a still smaller quantity of tannic acid. Stir each well, preferably with a glass rod or bone spoon, but not using the same rod or spoon for both glasses. Each liquid is colorless, but if you take a tumbler and pour the one into the other the resultant liquid will be opaque and black as ink, which, in fact, in a diluted form, it actually is. Now add a pinch of oxalic acid and again stir. The black will gradually disappear, the liquid becoming clear and colorless, as at first.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profit....

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.
